

THE P. C. EDITOR SAYS—

Last week five gentlemen from the State Auditor's office in Jefferson City and four this week were making another audit of the County Collector's books. A Standard representative made a visit to Benton Thursday afternoon but the auditors were not permitted to give out a statement of any kind as to the object of this audit. Collector Felker had nothing to give out for publication.

Some of our people have been given a bit of wrong information about the increase of gas tax from 2 to 3 cents. C. C. White, Scott County representative, informs us that the gas tax law is worded identically as the old law with the exception of substituting the figure 3 for the 2 in the old law. There is nothing in the new law requiring or permitting a part of the increased gas tax diverted to the general revenue for any other purpose. The entire increase will be used in road work, principally to build the farm to market roads as promised heretofore. The cities will likely slaughter the increase for the reason they already have paved streets, paved roads leading from every direction into their city, and seem not to be interested in whether the country districts have all-weather roads or no roads. Just why the automobile association should be so interested in beating this increase is a puzzle. With the increase Missouri would still have about the lowest gas tax of any state in the Mississippi Valley.

After waiting a couple of months for the Mayor to call a special election in Ward 2 for the election of an Alderman in the place of Hubert Boyer, removed from the Ward and nothing done, a petition was filed with the Council Tuesday night asking for a special election and the petitioners offered to pay the expense, but the petition was tabled and that Ward is running on one cylinder. Within six months of the spring election if the vacancy the Mayor and Council can appoint an Alderman to suit themselves whether it pleases the voters or not. This leaves a legal question whether or not the Council has it in their power to hold up an election with eight or nine months to go and deprive this Ward of its proper and legitimate representation.

Over on the lot by the side of the Scott County Mill office is some bulletin boards and between them a walk that leads up to an entrance to the back and over entrance is painted "Entrance to E. J. Keiths office." There being no office in evidence we were asked where his office was. Not knowing we asked Mr. Keith and he said: "My office is under my hat, at my home, and I am now having plans prepared for an office building placed on this lot that can be removed when the lot is sold."

Howard Weldin Jr. of Wilmington, Del., isn't afraid of automobile thieves and he never locks his car, either. He has several pet blacksnakes resting on the front seat beside him. When the snakes are hibernating in the winter he uses a few stuffed snakes and they have the same effect.

It may only be a publicity stunt, but Leo Carillo, actor and professional son of the Golden West, is actually being boomed for Governor of California as a Democratic candidate. The announcement came coincident with the statement that just 100 years ago Carillo's great-grandfather, Carlos Antonio Carillo, was first Provisional Governor of the state.

Not enough snow last winter! That's how farmers in the Federal Government's Matanuska Valley Colony in Alaska explain the small crops this summer. Snow and frost supply the water for the crops, according to the colonists. But there will be no shortage of food.

In Cameron County, Texas, they believe in economy. Recently they started slashing the budget with a vengeance and when they were finished the County Commissioners discovered they had eliminated the fund from which their own salaries were paid.

Plans for Swimming Pool and Golf Course Near Done

Final steps on plans for a standard-sized swimming pool with dressing houses, wading pool, golf course and club house are being carried out by J. L. Sutterfield, engineer on the project, who expects to submit the plans to WPA headquarters at Farmington next week.

With the nine-hole golf course will be a club house of modern Spanish architecture of reinforced concrete. In it a main dance and dining hall will be 47 by 32 feet. It will have servants quarters in one wing, a lounge room, locker room and a basement with lockers and toilets.

The Sikeston Golf Club will furnish the sponsor's share toward the golf project.

The swimming pool will be located in the southeast corner of the airport field. It will have dressing rooms for both sexes. The building will be a frame structure, and there will be a

Jackie Coogan, Other Stars, to Entertain at the Cotton Club Here Sept. 23

JACKIE COOGAN

For its grand opening on Thursday, Sept. 23, the Cotton Club at the edge of town on Highway 61 south will present for entertainment the celebrated Jackie Coogan, one-time kid star and idol of millions, who will bring his Hollywood orchestra and will feature Lila Lee, brunette screen actress, and Princess Luana, famed Honolulu hula dancer.

Coogan, it will be remembered, started on the road to millions as the discovery of Charlie Chaplin in his hit, "The Kid." As the most celebrated child star, Jackie played in hit after hit. As a grown young man now, Jackie still bears a striking resemblance to "The Kid" of old and still wears the smile and personality that brought him hosts of fans.

Jackie directs his own Hollywood swing orchestra for dancing, and the band is featured in a 45-minute floor show. Coogan's orchestra recently completed a long engagement at the famed Trocadero Cafe on upper Sunset Drive in Hollywood.

LILA LEE

Lila Lee last year co-starred in such pictures as "The Ex-Mrs. Bradford" and "Country Gentleman." She comes direct from Hollywood where she had a featured role this year in the production of "Two Wise Maids."

Princess Luana is another girl of luring personality with the Hollywood Hit Parade. She was born and reared in Honolulu and won a Hawaiian Island beauty contest before going to Hollywood for a career in pictures. As a hula dancer Princess Luana was featured with Bing Crosby in his recent hit, "Waikiki Wedding," and currently may be seen dancing to "The Kid" in the picture-production "The Hit Parade."

Don Eddy and Lillian Toura, sensational young dancing stars, have been seen in many musical motion picture productions. During their present tour with "The Hollywood Hit Parade," they are offering a varied program of dance routine under the billing, "Swing It Hollywood."

Ward Two Residents Want Aldermanic Vacancy Filled

A petition signed by 251 residents of Ward 2 requesting that the mayor and Board of Aldermen call a special election to select a successor to Hubert Boyer, who recently moved from this ward, was tabled by council at its September meeting.

The petition stated that if the council considered the cost of the special election an obstacle, a special list of signers would bear the expense. Only two names, those of M. C. Gresham and C. C. White, were written below the guarantee.

A special election in the ward would cost from $50 to $60, it was stated. This includes the cost of poll books, clerks and judges, ballots and notices.

Under a city ordinance, if a vacancy occurs within six months of the regular election date, the Board of Aldermen may select a new representative of the ward by voting on qualified electors in this ward. The one to receive a majority of the council's vote shall be declared councilman.

When a vacancy arises more than six months prior to the ensuing election day, the mayor shall call a special election, the ordinance states. The next regular city election will take place the first Tuesday of next April.

The council passed two ordinances, one providing for stop signs along East Center street and the other accepting the curb, gutter and pavement of the WPA project on North Street from New Madrid to the Frisco tracks.

Stop signs will be erected on either side of Center Street at Ranney, Prairie and Sikes.

A special tax assessment of $1.27 per front foot for paving and 24 cents per front foot for the curb and gutter, against owners whose property abuts the paved section of North Street, was authorized in the act accepting the WPA project. Special tax bills issued for this purpose bear 6 per cent interest per year after 30 days.

A proposition to purchase stop-and-go lights to be used at three intersections in the business district during fire calls was discussed and referred to the police and fire committee. It is understood that the fire department will purchase these lights out of their own funds. They would be placed at Malone and New Madrid, Malone and Kingshighway and New Madrid and Center.

A petition bearing four signatures was presented for the closing of the alley, running north and south, between Hunter Street and Woodlawn Avenue. City Attorney Robert A. Dempster was instructed to draw up an ordinance to this effect.

A report of receipts and disbursements of the Sikeston Special Road District from Aug. 1, 1936, to Aug. 1, 1937, was received and accepted.

The police report showed $61 in cash collected on 12 arrests. The fire department had two fires and a total of $54.55 due volunteers.

It was decided that the city should pay approximately $4 toward the expense of caps and Sam Browne belts for the grade school safety patrol. The Junior Chamber of Commerce and Board of Education are bearing the remainder of the cost.

City School Enrollment Higher Than Last Year

Sikeston city schools opened with an increased enrollment in all grades except the three grades of the South Grade School.

Up to Wednesday 1308 students had enrolled at the High School, South Grade School and Bailey School for the 1937-38 term.

The High School showed a student body of 369 for the four upper grades, an increase of 29 over the figure of last year. Supt. R. A. Harper expects a total High School enrollment of 375 by the end of next week with the customary late registration.

Boys and girls who had enjoyed three months of summer vacation buckled down to work Monday, and school work got under way that day.

Thirty seventh grade students had to be housed in Bailey School for want of room in the High School building.

	South	Bailey
Grade 1	83	60
Grade 2	83	39
Grade 3	76	39
Grade 4	67	45
Grade 5	83	42
Grade 6	63	40
Grade 7	—	30
Totals	460	295

High School enrollment—Seventh and eighth grades, 184; ninth grade, 110; tenth grade, 90; eleventh grade, 86; twelfth grade, 83; total, 553.

Negro Sought in Theft at Sterling's Arrested

Ernest Draper, negro sought in connection with a daylight theft of $127 from the Sterling Store, was arrested and in the city Wednesday by Highway Patrolman Cletis Bidevel and lodged in the local jail for questioning.

The trooper acted on a tip received that Draper, who had been missing from the city since the time of the alleged theft, had returned to his home here.

Draper emphatically denied that he had taken the money from the open safe in Sterling's during the noon hour on Aug. 19, officers said.

"If I'd taken that money I wouldn't be returned to Sikeston," officers quoted him as saying.

The negro said he had gone to Chicago and did not know that police were looking for him until he returned here Sunday. He said he was told upon his return that he was wanted by police but made no effort to leave town.

Suspicion was directed at Draper after the money was discovered missing at the end of the day. A check-up of receipts showed that $127 in bills had been pilfered from an unlocked safe in the office out of a total of $600 put in there.

The Sikeston negro admitted being in the store while the assistant manager, Elmer Dennis, was absent for lunch. Draper said he had done some work there, lifting boxes, and had even carried a water cooler back by the office but did not go near the safe. The manager, John Cox, was away on a vacation and no salesgirls were in the building at the time.

On the same day, Draper related, he left for a dance in southern Illinois and then rode freight trains to Chicago. For approximately two weeks, he told police, he stayed with a cousin in that city, and received money from him to get back to Sikeston.

Government Lotteries Would End Swindles

Postmaster W. Rufus Jackson, speaking yesterday at a picnic celebrating the completion of the Holy Cross Catholic Church at Cuba, Mo., called some of the state laws controlling lotteries "unenforceable," and suggested their modification to permit "harmless gift enterprises."

He also pointed out that government-conducted lotteries in other countries have proved to be an effective means of filling the national treasury.

Before outlining his views on lottery laws, Jackson reviewed the present statutes prohibiting the mailing of tickets or other lottery material. These laws, he said, had saved the public millions of dollars by protecting them from fraudulent lotteries as well as those honestly operated.

"However," he continued, "it is my private opinion that while the antilobby law protects the public from unscrupulous promoters, it also works a hardship upon those who are desirous of promoting worthy causes by means of innocent and harmless devices. In that respect I should be glad to see the law amended to permit, under government regulation, gift enterprises for worthy causes."

"Furthermore, in view of the enormous sums which are drawn into the hands of private promoters through sweepstake prize promotions and in view of the condition of the federal treasury, as a result of the depression, government-conducted lotteries might be a very effective means of replenishing the treasury and relieving the burden of the taxpayer. Several foreign countries have such government-conducted lotteries."

Some of the state anti-lottery laws, Jackson said, were "plainly not enforceable."

"We see them flaunted and disregarded in many quarters," he said. "Therefore, the only sensible course is to amend and revise those statutes so that they would have a clear purpose of suppressing fraudulent undertakings and at the same time not work a hardship on innocent enterprise."

Brown Sets New High In Out-Roughing Sinkey

Rough, tough Charles Sinkey, the heavy weight full of illegal holds, met a real cave man in "Rough House" Brown.

Brown out-Sinkeyed Sinkey Wednesday night at the arena. He pulled every shady hold Sinkey knew and gave the Corinth giant a post-graduate course in the art of contraband holds.

When the dust-and-chat-had cleared after this titanic struggle Sinkey had won the bout on Brown's disqualification. In other words he got too rough for Sinkey. That, ladies and gentlemen, has the same aspects as an asbestos factory burning down.

With a fall between them, the two huskies opened up in earnest in the third round. Sinkey managed to get Brown down on the canvas and he nonchalantly kicked the Cincinnati kangaroo out of the ring. Brown stayed out of the ring long enough to grab a handful of chat.

Back in the ring, Brown maneuvered to give a chat riddown to Sinkey. Unfortunately, Referee Mike Meroney got caught in No Man's Land and when "Rough House" slapped the handful of chat forward his hand caught Mike just below the eye. Mike got a healthy cut out of it. This was too much. He disqualified "Rough House," which made him rougher than Sinkey, which is saying too much.

Brown was no novice in the ring. He knew his wrestling and he knew the art of choking, eye-gouging and all the other outlawed holds of wrestling. He won the first match in five minutes with a double jackknife, but lost the fall in 10 minutes with a Japanese leg lock.

By contrast, the first bout was a very clean affair with some good wrestling. Sailor Parker, like Brown, was new to the Sikeston ring and was a main line wrestler. Former middleweight champion of both fleets of the U. S. Navy, he took the wiry Freddie Williams of Texarkana in two out of three falls.

Williams won the first encounter, in nine minutes with a rolling shortarm scissors. The Boston man annexed the second in 23 minutes with an Irish whip, and topped this off in a hurry with a head scissors and semi-headlock in three minutes.

Mahew's Bulldogs Start Scrimmage This Week

For the first time since the season Coach "Peg" Mahew's Bulldogs collided with each other in some actual scrimmage plays Monday and have continued the game tactics through this week.

The Sikeston mentor has a nest egg of 38 candidates from which to draw his team for the opening warfare of the season against East Prairie Sept. 24.

Graduation last spring all but cut the team to pieces, taking eight regulars from the first string. However, Coach Mahew has 15 lettermen to fall back on and may develop some likely prospects out of the rest of the contingent.

The eight whose positions will have to be filled are Ross Childers, center; Stanley Woods, right guard; Jesse Cotton, left end; Douglas Taylor, right end; Charles Rushing, right halfback; Ben Bowman, left halfback; G. B. Greer, fullback, and Moore Greer, quarterback. With this array of talent gone, the coach must fill an entire backfield and both ends, having only two tackles and a guard for compensation.

Crop, New U. S. Estimate

Washington, Sept. 8.—Government crop estimators increased today their indication of a 1937 crop of cotton to 16,098,000 bales, a gain of 505,000 bales from the official forecast based on Aug. 1 conditions.

The new estimate compared with 12,398,882 bales last year, 10,638,000 bales in 1935 and five-year average of 14,667,000 bales for 1928-32. The 1937 indicated crop will be about 33 1/3 per cent larger than last year's harvest.

The Federal Crop Board said the indicated yield per acre for the entire country of 228.5 pounds was the highest ever recorded and compared with 197.9 pounds last year and 169.9 pounds, the average for the 10 years 1923-32.

Abandonment since July also established a record, the 1.3 per cent being lowest ever recorded.

The Crop Report Board said the gains were "due in part to improvement in prospective yields per acre and in part to less than average abandonment of acreage."

Compliments Son and Friends

Mrs. H. L. Harty entertained with a dinner party Wednesday evening, complimentary to her son H. L. ## A SELECTED EDITORIAL

The statement Mr. Roosevelt lost control over Congress is so foolish. He has never cracked his whip over the individual members and has publicly said he had no desire and no intention of punishing those who opposed him. He has never had to resort to that kind of a program.

He has only had to go to the people and receive a response sufficiently strong to cause the members to give him what he wanted and what the people wanted. That same thing doubtless will be done over and the forces of special privilege routed and right and justice again control.

A hostile and subsidized press has misrepresented and distorted the facts, as was done during the 1936 campaign. Favoritism in government has strong adherents and great financial backing. The good judgment of the American people has been wonderfully shown by refusal to listen to these falsehoods and settling issues in a commonsense way in their own interests.—Richmond Conservator.

Old Document Discovered

By Dwight H. Brown Causes Interest in Capital City

An old document, discovered by Dwight H. Brown, secretary of state, in the archives vault in the state capital early this week, caused considerable interest on the part of historians.

It is dated July 14, 1832, and bears the great seal of the United States in its old form, affixed by means of wax and large paper wafer. The seal is one of the clearest impressions that has been found of the period prior to the present form of lever-press seal.

The document is a commission appointing Wilkins Updyke of Rhode Island a commissioner for the final adjustment of land claims in Missouri.

Andrew Jackson's well known signature is attested by Edw. Livingston, secretary of state. It is an especially good signature of Old Hickory, written in his 65th year, a few months before his successful campaign for re-election.

Livingston was a brother of Robert R. Livingston, who negotiated the Louisiana Purchase.

Historians were puzzled by the fact that this document of 1832 is still in existence. Practically every record of value was destroyed in the great fire of 1837, which burned the old brick capital building to the ground.

Dwight H. Brown explained that this commission was evidently filed in one of the land offices, at New Madrid or St. Louis. When the land offices were discontinued, the old records were brought to Jefferson City and stored in the new capital which was constructed in 1839-40.

A federal project has been started with the object of classifying, indexing and protecting the old records at Jefferson City, which seem to have been neglected during the latter part of the nineteenth century.

Ed McDonald, Regional Director of the Social Security Board, with headquarters at Kansas City, today announced the appointment of Harry L. Gilhaus of St. Louis, Missouri, a well-known insurance man, as manager of the Cape Girardeau field office of the Social Security Board. Mr. Gilhaus entered on his new duties last Friday, succeeding John A. H. Hopkins, who has been Acting Manager since the opening of The Cape Girardeau office, July 1st, and who is now returning to the Washington offices of the Board.

Lumsden Shoots Way to Victory in 2-day Tourney

Winding up with a tie of 206 strokes each in the grand championship play, Orville Lumsden decisively defeated James Parkin of Poplar Bluff, 5 up in nine holes in an extra session Monday afternoon and thereby annexed the title of the Southeast Missouri golf tournament here Sunday and Monday.

Lumsden set the pace for the first 27 holes, shooting a 104, but the Sikeston ace was one behind Parkin on the last flight, turning in a 102. Four Sikeston golfers were in the 11 which constituted the championship flight after the 27-hole qualifying round Sunday.

Poplar Bluff walked off with the four-man team affair, nosing out Sikeston 868 to 873. Forty-six players from nine clubs engaged in the two-day match. Cities sending players were Cape Girardeau Hillcrest and Country Club, Gwin's (Caruthersville and Hayti), Charleston, Poplar Bluff, Dexter, Kennett and Piedmont, as well as Sikeston.

H. Ponder of Poplar Bluff took the Class A contest with a 221. With 236, there was a three-way tie for the Class B tops, Murray Phillips and Dr. C. E. Limbaugh of Sikeston and Lee Trammel of Dexter holding out for this honor. M. Falls of Dexter hit a 241 to take Class C.

Qualifying scores Sunday for the championship bracket:

O. Lumsden, Sikeston	36 36 32-104
J. Parkin, Poplar Bluff	34 36 35-105
V. Powell, Kennett	37 32 36-105
J. Phillips, Poplar Bluff	35 36 34-105
Dick Toney, Piedmont	36 34 35-105

Class C leaders:

M. Falls, Dexter	241
Dr. T. C. McClure, Sikeston	243
L. Whitener, Gwin's	245

Four-man team results: Poplar

Bluff—J. Parkin 206, J. Phillips 214, E. McGee 227, H. Ponder 221; total, 868. Sikeston—O. Lumsden 206, G. W. Kirk 213, H. Alexander 214, C. C. Scott 240; total, 873. Kennett—V. Powell 208, J. Miles 209, D. Miles 230, H. Boswell 228; total, 875. Cape Hillcrest—G. Helton 214, E. R. Stark 242, D. Walters 257, J. J. Flentje 266; total, 979. Gwin's—J. Miles 241, L. Whitener 245, S. Pate 255, C. E. Berry 247; total, 988.

Lumsden and Parkin split the first prize golf equipment before playing off the championship. They also split the golf ball prize for the most birdies made during the two days, each shooting 11. This year is the third time Lumsden has won the silver trophy. He won it in 1934 and 1935. In each flight a prize was given for the lowest round of nine holes. They were won as follows: Championship, Helton, Cape Hillcrest, 32; Class A, C. Bolen, Piedmont, 34; Class B, Dr. Limbaugh of Sikeston (three tied on 37 and he won on total of 113); Class C, C. E. Berry, Hayti, 35.

At a meeting held after the tourney, E. A. Baldwin of Kennett was elected president of the association, succeeding G. W. Kirk of Sikeston. E. L. McClintock, Cape Girardeau, was re-elected secretary-treasurer, and the executive committee consists of C. C. Scott, Sikeston, Dick Toney, Piedmont, Sharon Pate, Caruthersville, H. Garner of Poplar Bluff and Lee Trammel of Dexter.

Kennett was selected for next year's tourney.

WARNING

to new users of Phillips 66 Poly Gas

Watch your speedometer the first time you try a tankful of the new Phillips 66 Poly Gas.

This different gasoline delivers such a rush of fast, smooth, sweet power... that first thing you know... you're over-stepping the legal limit without realizing it.

So go easy on the accelerator. But note the lively, flexible response. See how easily you slip through city traffic without babbling the clutch. Feel your car sprint when you give it the gas on country concrete.

The extra power comes from the extra energy units added to every gallon by the patented POLYmerization process. In addition, this improved performance is protected against climatic changes because Phillips 66 Poly Gas is 100% custom-tailored.

It is a scientific fact that no other gasoline—not a single one—is so accurately matched to the month-to-month changes in your weather!

September, December, April, or June, every day in the year Phillips 66 Poly Gas is matched to the climate at the very place in which you are driving.

Remember, if you are interested in buying more miles of driving pleasure at rock-bottom cost, you have an appointment at the Orange and Black 66 Shield. Drive in... fill up... pay no more than the price of ordinary motor fuel—and then just feel that difference.

you're safe on CONCRETE

At night you appreciate concrete all the more because its light gray surface helps you see down the road. Light is spread without "glossy" reflection. Pavement edges are clearly defined.

Concrete meets the ideal for a pavement as defined by the International Illumination Congress of 1928. This is important to you because surveys show that the rate of death per accident is 43 per cent higher during darkness.

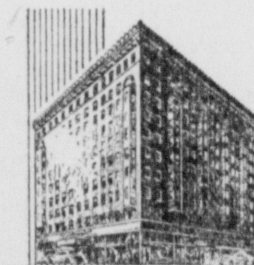

Concrete, smooth but non-skid, insures a quick, certain stop even in the rain. Blow-outs, spring breakage, steering gear failures, accidents of all kinds are less apt to happen on concrete.

Yet concrete is not only safe—it is more comfortable—it saves in driving costs—it costs less for upkeep—and cost of construction is less than that of any other pavement of equal load-carrying capacity.

HOUSEKEEPERS RESPOND

August Sale Breaks Records

The largest volume of business ever done by our firm in any August that's the record and of course there must have been reasons for such response. In brief—and they did so as set out above.

The Buying Public Found It Profitable To Buy

Now Then

If furniture buyers found it to their advantage to trade with us during August because of special bargains and added service our force reasons the same will be true of September, October November and December, IF we do our full part.

And So We're All Set For Another Campaign

This time it's for a period of four months. Our goal is to break all sales records of all furniture stores in this territory, past or present, during the remainder of 1937, on such goods as we handle.

Pretty Big Order You Say?

Sure it is—but we have a $50,000.00 stock to draw from—immense varieties, bang up service, a lot of energy and a force of determined men, and are going to try all that out on YOU. More than that, WE ARE GOING TO WIN.

This Undertaking Demands Extra Stock

which we will have in thousands—modern displays will be here too and a policy of fair and square dealing that people have shown they like. A lot of hard work will be mixed in to keep things moving and we figure this combination will produce pleasure, profit and satisfaction to customers and that's where you come in.

In The Back Of Our Heads

is a desire to stir housekeepers and whole families up on the importance of cosy home surroundings. Stream line this and that—hard liquor—midnight frolics and headaches that follow consume many hard earned dollars with homes getting only what is left. Instead of being last on the list common sense and good judgment urge that HOME SHOULD COME FIRST

Are You With Us?

If you endorse our ambitious program to help improve homes while making a few dollars for ourselves we invite you to go along with us on this journey—helping us do the job by contributing orders—large or small. Visit the store and see the largest stock between St. Louis and Memphis.

THE ARABIAN NIGHTS AT CAPE GIRARDEAU

The Arabian Nights, an Oriental fantasy based on stories that have thrilled adults and children for centuries, will be presented in a gorgeous outdoor setting in Houck Field Stadium in Cape Girardeau the nights of Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, Sept. 14, 15 and 16.

With a cast of more than 600 persons and on a stage 251 feet in length, the production, sponsored by The Southeast Missouri and staged through the cooperation of the entire community of pretentious of any ever attempted in this section.

Lavish costumes, brilliant scenery, beautiful dancing girls, the best of music by soloists and a specially organized symphony orchestra, the production will be presented in three stories, featuring a story of ancient Persia in its first chapter, the story of Sinbad, the Sailor, in the second, and the well known story of Aladdin and the Lamp in the third. The production will be the same each night.

There are 4935 seats available in the stadium, with one third being reserved. Advance sale of tickets has been started at the office of The Southeast Missouri.

SHOE FACTORY, JACK'S Y

SPLIT SECOND, THIRD

A clean sweep of the "little city series" was averted on the home stretch Wednesday night by the Shoe Factory ten, which gained its first conquest of Jack's Y by a 7-5 count. On Monday the Y team bettered the Internationals, 5-4, for a second straight win.

The Shoe Factory, by keeping its head above the waters of defeat Wednesday, extended the play at least another game and so will provide a preliminary to the Co. K-Highway playoff, which also goes to its fourth game Friday night.

In the fifth inning Wednesday Jack's Y protested a third-base decision against a runner that caused a mild furor. Mow, who had walked, was on third base when Hill swatted a fly to right field. The ball hit Frey's glove and jumped into the air, but Frey caught it as it dropped again. Mow had started in home the instant the ball hit Frey's glove the first time. The horsehide was then pegged to third and Referee Martin ruled Mow out because the play was not completed until the Frey caught the ball the second time.

Spotting the Y a three-run lead, the Shoe Factory came to life in the fifth with five runs. Three hits, including a triple and a double, were made valuable with some ragged Y fielding, and the Shoe team took the lead, 5-3. This was the state of affairs the Factory needed, for both teams scored twice in the final frame. Hits were nine to eight in favor of the Internationals.

In the Monday game, the result was a closed book after the fourth inning. Two unearned runs in the second, on an error and walk, gave the Y a chance to take after the Factory, which had hit hard for four safeties and three runs in the first. The Shoe Makers managed to pick up another in the second, but a double by Mahew and a triple by Mow in the fourth were leading factors in the three runs which beat the other ten.

Bidwell and Hill were batteries for the Y both evenings. Fansler and Ables took it Monday and Bennett and Fansler Wednesday for the Factory.

KIWANIS GATHERING

Capt. Taner Dye spoke to the Kiwanis Club Wednesday evening on "What the National Guard Does for the Young Man," and also gave an account of the army maneuvers in which Co. K took part at Ft. Riley, Kan., recently. Supt. R. A. Harper, a club member, had as guests the four newly employed men teachers of the school system and introduced them to the gathering. They were Joe Saville, Vernon Green, R. D. Sorrells and V. L. Knepper. There were 21 members present.

GUARDS NEAR CITY CROWN

TAKING THIRD TILT, 6-3

Co. K advanced within striking distance of the city softball crown Wednesday night by setting back the Highway team firmly, 6-3, and again it was distinct lack of hits that put the Roald Men in the red.

Although the Highway got to Johnny Marshall's offerings enough to cut his strikeout total to seven for the game, the pitcher's support was hitting on the right cylinders and the Highway secured but four hits.

It was really a four-run spurge in the sixth inning that settled the account in favor of the Guardsmen. W. Rogers neatly capped this scoring display with a home run that checked in another man before him. In this same stanza Gilbert had just bopped a triple to run in a man ahead of him.

Dace doubled in the first and shortly after scored on the Rogers aerial to short center. W. Rogers and F. Swaim in the second inning in succession slammed two-baggers, the latter scoring Rogers while an error at second gave Swaim a chance to make it 2-1 for the Guard.

Hale's three-bagger in the sixth was followed by a scoring-single from Law's bat which made it 3-2, for Hale previously had singled in the fourth and traveled the full distance when an error play and two walks pushed him across the plate. This little margin was emphatically wiped out in the sixth with the four-run session of Co. K.

The fourth game of the series, with the Guards pointing to their third victory while the Highway has had one triumph, will be played Friday evening.

Continuance of the Sino-Japanese war may cause Japan to decline to serve as host to the 1940 Olympic games, it was learned from Tokyo. Both the cost of the war and alarm over foreign complications may force the Nipponese to withdraw.

Increased demand for petroleum products created by 5,270,000 new automobiles and 300,000 new oil burners will necessitate the drilling of about 32,000 new oil wells this year, the Lamp Standard Oil Company of New Jersey publication, says.

SOME SCOTT COUNTY

FARM BUREAU NEWS

Cattle Treatment For Worms

Roy M. Johnson and Fremont Goetz of Sikeston attended a cattle worming demonstration at Canolou recently with County Agent Veatch.

The cattle showed the symptoms of worms by the white color inside the eye lids and under the lips. They were drenched with a solution of Bluestone in water, the same mixture as for sheep.

The demonstration was conducted at the farm of X. Caverno by Dr. A. W. Uren, Extension Veterinarian, of the Missouri College of Agriculture, who estimated that in heavy worm infestations all the blood in an animal passed through the worms once every 72 hours.

Deadline on Farm Inspections

The County Committee of the Scott County Agricultural Conservation Association suggests that farmers file their "Request for 1937 Farm Inspection" as soon as possible in case they have not already done so.

This is necessary because the group of Farm Reporters now working will have to be discharged as soon as their work becomes too expensive on account of late requests.

In discussing the final date for receiving requests the committee feels that September 13 will have given everyone ample time to have filed their requests.

Alfalfa Planting Started

Since recent rains many farmers have gone ahead with plans to plant alfalfa this week and most all are inoculating their seed.

Grover Baker, Sikeston, Evin Burke, Vanduser, and Alvin Gasser, Sikeston have lined and inoculated their seed which is very important toward insuring a good stand. Mr. Burke in addition to the lime and inoculation is applying 200 pounds of phosphate fertilizer per acre.

Reports of fleas being very bothersome around the home-stead have come into the County Agent's office from most all parts of the county. County Agent Veatch says that fleas may be held in check. They may build up in numbers in hog barns and then be carried into houses by dogs and cats. Fleas feed on the blood of animals and may live for several days without food. The removal of animals from a building, hence, will not control the pest. The immature stages live in the litter dust in the infested areas. In controlling the pest, the first step

SOIL DEPLETED RAPIDLY BY BIG WHEAT CROP

Columbia, Mo., September 8.—A large amount of mineral plant elements has been removed from Missouri's soil by this year's wheat crop of 32,454,000 bushels, William A. Albrecht, Professor of Soils in the Missouri College of Agriculture, declares. Fifty bushels of wheat will normally remove from the soil 12 pounds of phosphorus, 13 pounds of potassium, four pounds of magnesium and 71 pounds of nitrogen. Straw removes an additional four pounds of phosphorus for each two and one-half tons.

"Farmers need to seriously consider the matter of replacing these," Albrecht said, "if they hope to maintain the fertility of their soils."

By growing legumes he added, the nitrogen content of the soil can be fairly well maintained. If other mineral elements are to be kept from being depleted, however, they must be added in the form of fertilizer.

If fertilizer is added to the wheat crop, it increases the crop, and aids a following clover crop, which in turn will add more nitrogen to the soil.

SHOT ONE DUCK BUT VIOLATED TREATY

Kansas City, Mo., September 8.—William A. Still shot a duck in Kansas last February and, as a result, came into Federal Court today to answer these charges:

1. Hunting migratory fowl in violation of a 1918 treaty between the United States and Great Britain.

2. Attempting to kill migratory fowl in violation of the treaty.

3. Having possession of one wild duck, contrary to the treaty.

4. Firing from an automobile at a wild duck.

5. Attempting to shoot wild duck from an automobile.

6. Using a repeating shotgun having more than three shells.

7. Attempting to use a repeating gun having more than three shells.

8. Having no unexpired license to hunt ducks.

"Your honor," said Still, "I did not know anything about the treaty. I was hungry. I shot the duck to eat."

"Ignorance of the law is no excuse," said Judge Richard J. Hopkins.

Still paid a $25 fine.

HOLLYWOOD STAR-LITES

By Chuck Cochard

Hollywood—So you have often wondered what the high-priced stars do with their salaries each year?

Well, here's part of the answer. A typical feminine star's budget, assuming for hypothetical purposes that her yearly salary amounts to $100,000.

Government tax, $30,000. State tax $10,000. Clothes, $15,000. Maintenance of home and entertainment, $25,000. Grand total, $90,000. Net remainder, $10,000.

So, when all is said and done, the net return to the effected players is inclined to be all but trivial—amounts generally not exceeding the average per annum compensation to relatively obscure business executives the country over.

Even after the taxes are taken out there is a considerable sum left, but those items are regarded as essential. A star must have an extensive — and expensive wardrobe suited to all conceivable occasions. She must live sumptuously and entertain lavishly, and no star can get along without an agent.

This is what it costs to be glamorous in Hollywood.

The Strip-Tease Dance

The famed Strip-Tease dance that New York's purity administration recently put away in the closet came into existence in a very unique way. Louise Hovick known to the thousands of burlesque followers as Gypsy Rose Lee claims she is the originator of it. Miss Hovick, who hails from Seattle, has been a trouper all her life. It wasn't until late in her career that strip-tease came and then by accident.

She was playing burlesque in Chicago and had to be alone on the stage while other members of the cast changed costume. One day she had an idea.

"When I made my exit," she explains, "I purposely let my shoulder stray fall. It wowed the house and the manager raised my salary $50 a week."

However, New York got a glimpse of the new Gypsy known as Louise Hovick of the cinema screen in her latest film, "You Can't Have Everything." And then she eloped with a Robert Mitty of New York. And all in one week.

Hitting Sends Highway Forward to Win 4-3

Step by step the Highway crawled up to tie the score and then take the lead in the last inning to defeat the National Guard, 4-3, in the second game of the city championship series Monday night. The outcome gave each team a victory.

In face of a 2-0 lead in the fourth, the Highway started on a score-an-inning march that ended with a triumph in the seventh. Johnny Marshall did not hit the stride which enabled him to turn the Highway back Friday night with three hits and 15 strikeouts. Rather, it was Slim Wyatt's night. He heaved a steady ball and, while he got only three strikeouts, he did not walk a man and through his mates' fielding had only three hits registered against him. Johnny walked six men and the Highway touched him for nine hits.

Whenever they needed a pound on the ball most, the Highway men came through with it. All scores by the winners were made on opportune blows which came when a man was in scoring position.

In the initial half of the fourth, it looked like another Co. K evening. Miller batted a double, and Gilbert made it safe on his short wallop when the Highway tried unsuccessfully to catch Miller at third. While Johnny Marshall was being thrown out from third to first, Miller dashed home and Gilbert came to third. A long fly to short center gave Gilbert a passport home.

In the same frame Dace walked for the Highway, stole second and went to third on a wild pitch as Johnny's erratic heaves also walked Dudley. To start the slow-motion rally, Johnny Rogers swatted a single that scored Dace.

The next inning W. Rogers socked a high one that was dropped by the Highway centerfielder near the bleachers. The Guardsman took two bases on it and later stole third. On a grounder by F. Swaim thrown from short to first for a putout, Rogers cashed in on it and the count stood 3-1.

Slowly but surely the Highway came one. Eaton doubled and stole third. Hearnes walked and this time it was Wyatt who provided the synchronized blow for a score. Hale in the next frame, the sixth, socked a single and advanced a base on a wild pitch. Weeks drew a free trip on four balls and McGill came to the rescue this time with the safety that scored Hale.

Going into the seventh inning tied, the Guard succeeded in getting a man as far as third. Then, with the Highway in their last show at the plate Dace, Dudley and Johnny Rogers singled one after the other and rang down the curtain. As in the fourth inning Dace stole second and went to third on a wild pitch. Dudley singled but Dace still held third. Johnny Rogers vacated the stands with his single that scored Dace. Only one out had been made. The next game will take place Friday night.

Millers Upset Dexter In Final Inning 4-3

With the game all but in the bag for Dexter, 3-2, the Millers pulled a Garrison finish in the ninth inning, tying the score and then, with two outs, squeezing out the winning run for a 4-3 victory here Monday in a Labor Day clash.

Twelve hits by the Sikeston sluggers, as contrasted to five for the invaders, should have stacked up a nice pile of runs, but fate contrived to strow these valid blows out through the entire show so that each one counted for a minimum of profit.

After four hits had gained them nothing in the first three innings, the Flour boys buckled down and produced four more in the fourth, which is enough to go somewhere. Eaton and Hudson rammed singles, followed by Rogers' double and Stacy's single, which gave the local crew two runs.

Kruse introduced Dexter to the home plate in the fifth. He doubled, went a base further on a grounder play to first and dashed in home on a wild pitch.

Both teams tightened until the eighth. Then Kimbrel of Dexter was given a ride to first on an error at short. He went to second on a wild pitch and traveled the other half of the journey on Dodge's single. Dodge stole second and followed in Kimbrel's footsteps a moment later via Cassidy's single.

Stacy, who did the pitching for the Millers, saw his game going west and connected for a one-bagger in the ninth. Pitcher Kimbrel of Dexter got a little excited at this turn of affairs and walked Dowdy. Torlington hit one to second base, who muffed it, and Stacy scored. Eaton dissolved the tie with his single which scored Dowdy and closed the fray with two outs already up.

Score by innings:	000	010	020-3
Sikeston	000	200	002-4
Batteries:	Kimbrel and Poinset, Stacy and Eaton.

GET THE JUMP ON THE 1938 GARDEN

While a great many flower seeds may be sown and flower bulbs planted or transplanted, some vegetables may also be started this season. Fall work in the vegetable garden is chiefly concerned with preparing the soil for spring.

Spaded or plowed and left rough over winter, the soil will obtain substantial benefits from the freezing and thawing of the winter season. If manure is to help supply humus it is better applied in the fall.

Fall planting is possible for the perennial vegetables, such as asparagus, rhubarb, and multiplier onions. Spinach for the first spring crop may be planted in the fall to advantage. Prepare the bed and scatter the seed in rows as late as possible but avoid frozen ground. When the seed is sown very late it will not germinate until next spring but will be ready to sprout as soon as the first favorable weather swells the germ in the seed.

Spinach must do all of its growing in cool weather. The earlier it can be started the better and longer the crop. Mulch the bed well after the seed is sown and remove the mulch early next spring, as soon as the ground starts to thaw. It is a waste of time, space, energy and money to grow the old-fashioned small leaf variety. Try the modern inventions in the spinach line. They have larger, thicker, leaves, are a better quality product, and are more heat resistant and less prone to race up to seed at the slightest suspicion of warm weather.

No better garnish nor "flavorer" for meats, soups, and vegetables has been found than parsley—particularly the curled leaf variety. It can be sown as late as September and allowed to grow unprotected until severe frost then it should be mulched for protection from freezes and can be used the entire winter. A pot of parsley will help to bring cheer to a room during the winter months and supply the family with a "seasoning".

Multiplier or potato onions as they are sometimes called give the first young onions in the spring. A few bulbs put in this fall will give a crop before the onion sets or plants can get into action. They are perfectly hardy.

Winter lettuce and radishes lend a note of attraction to the winter dinner and the school lunch. They may be sown now and protected when freezes occur.

The asparagus beds may be set this fall using two year old plants. The main requisite is deep, rich soil and ample room for each hill, giving the plants about three feet each way. Rhubarb roots should be set out now in rich well drained soil. Half a dozen plants will be sufficient to provide an ample supply for the average family.—Ella Fikuart, Home Demonstration Agent.

SAND BURR LODGES IN BOYS' THROAT

Cooter, September 6.—A sand burr, which had lodged in the throat of 12-year-old Romain Mounts, son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Mounts, while he was playing ball, was removed at the Memphis, Tenn., Baptist Hospital. The burr was thrown into the boys' mouth in some manner when he picked up the baseball on which the burr had become attached. He was given first aid treatment at the Blytheville, Ark., hospital, then rushed to Memphis.

Rare Missouri Journal Found In an Old Trunk

Interesting happenings in St. Louis and Missouri in July, 1808, are quaintly reported in tattered pages of a copy of the Missouri Gazette, first newspaper published here, which was found recently by Curtis Anderson in an old trunk in his home at Republic, Mo.

The trunk was owned by his grandmother, Mrs. Hattie Hensley, who died in February. The weekly paper, published by Joseph Charles, first appeared July 12, 1808, but on the fragments found in the trunk the date of publication does not appear. From news stories and auction announcements, however, it is evident that the paper was issued near the end of July, 1808. Copies of the Missouri Gazette are rarely found, except in historical museums and some libraries.

In the trunk Anderson also found a thick Bible, printed in London in 1812, and a Confederate $5 bill. He had them with him in St. Louis yesterday.

At the time the paper appeared, St. Louis was in Louisiana Territory and Indians were much in the news. One article on a murder trial in St. Louis was as follows: "At a special court of Oyer and Terminer, held at the court house of this town, on Saturday last, two Ioway Indians who were committed to prison some time ago for murder, were tried and found guilty. Sentence of death will be pronounced on them this day. The trial of the Sankee who killed the white man at Portage de Sioux, will be held this day."

That Indians were a constant threat in 1808 was indicated in this news paragraph: "It is with heartfelt pleasure we announce the patriotism displayed by the St. Charles troop of hourse a few days ago; they offered their services to accompany Gen. Clark up the Missouri, in order to protect and assist in the building of the intended Fort, at or near the Osage River."

Unclaimed letters at the post-office were listed prominently in the paper. An auction announcement stated that cognac "that has been more than three years in the cellar in this town" would be offered for sale and "great bargains will be given."

Trustees for the town of St.

Louis, listed in another story, were August Chouteau, Edward Hemstead, Bernard Pratte, Peter Chouteau and Alexander McNair.

A denunciation of Eastern editors read: "It is truly lamentable to observe the infamous calumny, the glaring falsehoods and gross rebaldry, which is daily sent forth by some of the newspapers of New York, Philadelphia and other places, where the soil is cursed by British agents and spies, and where printers are found base enough to prefer an English bribe to the esteem of their fellow citizens. It is generally known that British merchants or manufacturers, who are engaged in the trade of this country, send a partner to reside at some of the Atlantic ports; if he has not been an old toy citizen, he soon gets naturalized; he and his fellows pick up some rascally printer and pay him liberally to defame all those who struggle British dominion."

Another article on Indian affairs read as follows: "The Osages have lately committed so many outrages on the frontiers, that the Government have permitted the Delaware, Shawane, Kickapoo, etc., to go to war with them. We understand from some of the chiefs of the latter that they will be able to bring 5000 warriors into the plains; it is probable the Osages will get the Panies to join them; as the invaders must march into the plains and as the Osages and Panies fight on horseback, there is no doubt of a warm and important campaign."

CHINESE BATTALION KILLED TO THE LAST MAN

Shanghai, September 7.—This was the suicidal charge of the 800—a Chinese battalion that went down to the last man in the yellow mud at Lotien.

Isolated by artillery fire, the Chinese had subsisted four days on grass and tree bark while they blazed their way to the outskirts of Lotien. Exhausted, they made camp.

Advancing Japanese surrounded them. First went grenades; machine guns coughed out the last few rounds; then, at last, when rifle ammunition was gone, the Chinese charged with bayonets. A Japanese Army spokesman reporting the incident, said 800 Chinese were killed.

GINNERS SET THIRTY-FIVE CENTS PER CWT. RATE

Caruthersville, September 6.—C. F. Bloker, Caruthersville, and P. L. Kelley, Steele, leading Pemiscot County ginner, have announced that ginner of Steele and Southern Pemiscot County will observe generally a 30 cents per 100 rate for ginning instead of a 35-cent rate such as was said to have been agreed upon by Southwest ginner at a meeting at Blytheville about two weeks ago.

The tuberculosis patient should avoid patent medicines and "guaranteed cures." He should place himself in the hands of a competent physician and follow instructions implicitly, the Missouri Tuberculosis Association states.

Constable Finds Double Quota in Cotton Patch

Out looking for one negro suspect, Constable Wm. O. "Bill" Ellis nabbed two instead, each wanted for different charges, in the same cotton patch.

The Sikeston officer was called Tuesday to farm of Ernest Grant north of McMullin where a can of engine oil was stolen from a tractor shed. A diamond heel print was left by the thief, according to the officer.

He trailed the print to land just south of the Grant farm and arrested John Smith, negro, who was picking cotton in the field along with other negroes. Smith lived on the farm, and one of his shoes bore the diamond heel print, the officer said.

With another group of pickers at the far end of the field was Ozie Mae Harmon, negro woman living on the same farm. The officer waited until Ozie picked her way to the end of the field and then arrested her on a warrant issued about three weeks ago on a charge of stealing dresses from another negro, Willie Parme, of Sikeston. At the time the warrant was issued Ozie had skipped out, the constable said.

A search of the cabin of John Smith revealed the empty oil can in the loft, Mr. Ellis said. The negro admitted the theft of the oil, and said he had poured it in the motor of his car.

Both were taken from the Sikeston jail Tuesday night to the county jail at Benton to await a hearing here Thursday before Justice Wm. S. Smith.

Are You Sick?

DISGUSTED—TIRED OF LIVING—LAZY—NO ACCOUNT

Nash Says He Can Help Nine Out of Ten

People who are ill have the habit of forever complaining that they're sick—that they feel terrible—that they've tried everything, and nothing seems to help—that they ache in every bone of their body—that they have headaches, backaches, and also the other aches known to mankind—that they can't sleep at night, and have no appetite—that they're blue, and wish they were dead—and that the whole world is down on them. And people who are in good health have the habit of ignoring the "chronic invalid's" company, as well as their aches and pains.

NASH'S C. & L. TONIC offers hope to the sufferer, for it is claimed that this splendid tonic will help nine out of ten illnesses of the South.

ARE YOU A VICTIM?

For it has been discovered that the majority of Southern ailments are caused from Malaria and Biliousness, and NASH'S C. & L. TONIC was perfected after years of study and research for the treatment and prevention of Malaria, Biliousness, and all kindred ailments. If you have been bitten by a mosquito, then no doubt you have been injected with deadly germs, which thrive and multiply in your body. You don't have to have chills and fever to have Malaria. There are numerous warnings in the form of constipation, indigestion, salivary gland, that tired lazy feeling, etc. Don't wait until your body is wracked with the pain of burning fever and chills—start taking NASH'S TONIC today. Prevent Malaria.

PEP MAY BE YOURS

After a few doses your friends will be delighted—you'll notice the difference. That pep you used to have will be yours again. You'll feel like "going places and seeing things"—your color will be good—your work and play will show a difference. And you in turn will be telling YOUR friends that it's a shame for anyone to be sick and drag around when NASH'S TONIC is such a wonderful help.

ALFALFA MEALS SUPPLY VITAMIN A FOR CHICKENS

Growing chickens need some form of vitamin A to make satisfactory growth. Birds allowed to range about the farm during the growing season usually pick up sufficient quantities of green feed, but birds confined or unable to get green feed should have some feed that is rich in vitamin A, say poultry specialists of the United States Bureau of Animal Industry.

Alfalfa-leaf meal is one of the most economical sources of vitamin A, when all feeds must be purchased, and may serve as the sole source of this vitamin for growing chicks. Other common sources of vitamin A, in addition to green feeds, are yellow corn and milk.

The percentage of alfalfa-leaf meal required in a diet, which contains no appreciable quantity of vitamin A from other sources, depends on the ability of that diet to support growth when vitamin A is adequately supplied and on the vitamin A potency of the alfalfa-leaf meal itself. This potency is influenced by factors such as the method of preparation, variety, soil, weather, and cutting. Of these, the first is by far the most important.

The best criteria of an alfalfa-leaf meal's vitamin A potency are: Age, color, and "brightness." Unfortunately, it is seldom possible for the purchaser to ascertain the age of the meal he buys. Although the color of an alfalfa-leaf meal is a fairly good index of the meal's vitamin A content, the potency decreases more rapidly than the greenness of the meal changes.

Although as little alfalfa-leaf meal as 1.5 per cent of the total ration may supply an adequate quantity of vitamin A to maintain chicks in good health and enable them to grow, it is unwise to depend on less than 5 per cent of an alfalfa-leaf meal of unknown potency.

Soil Conservation Men Give "Porch Vine" a Job

An old familiar ornamental vine, also in use in the South as a hay and pasture crop since early in the twentieth century, has been put to work by the Soil Conservation Service of the Department of Agriculture.

The vine is kudzu, more commonly known throughout the Southeastern States as "porch vine." Soil conservationists found here ready made a lush vine that produces a rapid, dense growth to anchor the top soil to southern farm lands. They needed a plant that would "pay its own way," contributing something to the farming crop and also helping rebuild soils impoverished by erosion.

Kudzu meets these requirements. In the Southeast it grows under almost any condition, on rich land or poor land. Under favorite conditions the vine often sends out runners 60 to 70 feet long in a single season. They take root every few feet at the nodes, literally "roping down" the soil. As a legume, kudzu restores nitrogen to the soil, and for some time has been known as an excellent forage crop.

The Service is using kudzu extensively throughout the Southeast in gully control. The vines cover a gully with a dense mat of vegetation in a short time and check further cutting. Kudzu is also used on steep slopes and other areas damaged by erosion.

NEW STATE SALES TAX TOKENS TO BE IN CIRCULATION SEPT. 15

Jefferson City, Sept. 7.—Distribution of Missouri's new zinc tax tokens to the public will begin September 15, Sales Tax Supervisor Hubert Bates announced today. A total of 27,000,000 one-mil tokens and 5,000,000 five-mil pieces will be in the hands of distributing banks Monday.

Asking merchants and banks to observe the release dates, Bates said it would be necessary to continue to use the old paper tokens until distribution is completed.

Bates announced that sales tax receipts for July, first full month of the 2 per cent levy, were $1,777,494 from 62,767 retailers. Returns for July, 1936, under the 1 per cent levy, were $951,670 from 53,931 merchants.

EBERT-KREADY TO HAVE ANNUAL BIRTHDAY PARTY

The Ebert-Kready Missionary Society of the Methodist church will have their annual birthday party at the home of Mrs. J. R. Mrs. Arch Russell will be program chairman.

All members are requested to come and have an enjoyable afternoon together. Also bring a penny for every year of your age. If you do not care to reveal your age, any amount will go to a good cause.

ST. FRANCIS XAVIER PICNIC A SUCCESS

The Labor Day picnic of St. Francis Xavier parish was a big success, according to Father John J. O'Neill, pastor of the church. Approximately 1000 people ate at the special dinner and supper served on the school grounds. Concessions at Malone Park enjoyed a brisk trade through the day.

"The Catholic people of St. Francis Xavier parish wish to thank their friends for the splendid co-operation given them in making the picnic a success," stated Fr. O'Neill. "As it would be impossible to thank each one individually, we are taking this method of expressing our appreciation."

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

ANIMAL AND PET PICTURES

The very fact that animals and pets don't pose makes them ideal photographic subjects.

FROM household pets to giants of the jungle—animals are ideal subjects for snapshots. They don't pose; they don't act. You can snap them in natural, undirected action and that is just the reason their pictures create so much interest.

To get good pictures of any animal the first essential is patience. It is quite possible that the family dog will stand up obligingly for you on command, but in picturing all other animals you'll find it necessary to wait for the picture you want.

And this brings us to the question—what do you want in an animal picture?

You may prefer to snap a kitten as it plays with a string or a dog wrestling with a stick.

Domestic animals, of course, offer few real camera difficulties, for you can get them to come where the light is right. Open shade, on a bright day, will be found best. As for shutter speed (if your camera has variable speeds), you'll need 1/25th of a second or faster, to catch fleeting poses and expressions. Unless the light is exceptional, better work with the lens wide open.

To snap less controllable animals—squirrels, birds, and such—you'll need greater patience and cunning. Much depends on background and on your distance from the subject. At more than ten feet, for example, a squirrel becomes almost invisible UNLESS it is sharply revealed on a branch, with the sky for background. Obviously, you'll need to use a fast shutter; squirrels move too swiftly for slow snaps.

The zoo can be a happy hunting ground, too. In many cases, you'll be able to shoot through or over the bars of cages, obtaining clear, unobstructed snaps.

Use a modern, color sensitive film. You'll need all the detail you can get and the utmost in color value rendering.

John van Gulder

FUNERAL SERVICE FOR MOREHOUSE INFANT WED.

Funeral Services were conducted Wednesday morning, September 8, from the family residence in Morehouse for John Earl Hunt, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Dall Hunt, who died of a spinal disorder Tuesday, September 7, at the age of three months and 29 days. Rev. Harold Ray, Nazarene minister of Sikeston, officiated. Interment was made in the Sikeston Memorial Park cemetery.

NEIGHBOR DAY PLANS ARE BEING PERFECTED

At a meeting of the Scott County Farm Bureau Thursday night plans for a bigger and better Neighbor Day at Benton October 7, were discussed.

It was decided that in order that the judges may better do their work that displays for the agricultural show shall be brought either Wednesday afternoon or night or before ten o'clock Thursday morning. Specimens brought in after that hour may be placed for exhibition but can not enter competition. It is especially desirable that farmers make note of this new ruling and govern themselves accordingly. The committee wishes it known that all farm and garden products must be in at the hour above stated in order to compete for prizes.

Another ruling that was made is to the effect that no prizes will be given for articles or entries that are not provided for on the premium list. In years gone by people have brought in various showings and have expected gifts when there was no provision made therefor.

There will be no quilt nor fancy work show. Unfortunately there is not room enough for such a display and the result is there will be none. It takes lots of space to show quilts, comforts and such like.

County Agent Veatch is soon to publish articles on how to prepare garden and field crops for showing on Neighbor Day. This should be valuable information for all who intend to bring in exhibits.

The premium list is getting started with a fine display of cooperation. It looks like there will be the largest list of premiums that have ever been available for the Neighbor Day attendees.

An order has been placed for a fireworks display, the like of which has never before been sent to a Southeast Missouri town. A carefully selected display of bombs and aerial pieces has been bought and it is quite probable it will be one of the most beautiful ever fired in this whole area. This is quite an expensive assortment, but the Neighbor Day committee feels that fireworks has a place on the night program and the men who are making the arrangements are determined the neighbors shall have the very best.

A new feature, one that has never been on the night program, will be several bouts between Southeast Missouri boxers. Tom Crites of Benton will be in charge of this attraction and Negroes from the Delta CCC camp will appear in the ring.

The moving picture program will furnish night entertainment for thousands and it is quite likely three or four machines will be handling films at the same time. The Standard Oil Co.'s feature, "Stan," will be one of those that will be on the grounds, and it is more than likely others will also be here, among which is the Fred A. Groves machine from Cape Girardeau. The U. S. navy will also show pictures.

State Round-Up At Columbia

New Madrid County was represented at the State Round-up of 4-H Clubs at Columbia last week by Mrs. Milus Davis, local leader from Canalou, Rachel Coppage, Naomi Muffett, Lillie Mae Chaney, all Canalou; Marietta Twitty, Lilbourn; Joe Haubold, Walter Crafton, Marston, and Anne Sillers, Home Demonstration Agent. The group left Monday morning and returned Friday evening.

While in Columbia, the girls and boys took part in the Demonstrations, Style Revue and Better Grooming Contests. Rachel Coppage and Naomi Muffett demonstrated "Making and Serving Soft Custards", and placed in the red ribbon group in Dinner Club Contest. Joe Haubold and Walter Crafton demonstrated "Planting Cotton" and also placed in the red ribbon class.

All the boys and girls from the County took part in the Folk Games that were the most important part of the Program on Wednesday evening.

The program closed with the candle lighting ceremony in which all took part on Thursday night.

These club people came home feeling that they had had an enjoyable and profitable week.

Although the damage to corn and cotton by grasshoppers has been held in check through the use of poison, County Agent Veatch predicts the damage to other farm crops will exceed the damage done to these two in Scott County as farmers were quick to poison them in corn and cotton.

The worst damage is to the hundreds of acres of young clover and lespedeza that have been stripped of their leaves and died out due to these greedy insects. In more than 50 per cent of the cases, the failure of these crops in the whole county was due to the hoppers attacking the young plants. The dry weather is only a partial factor in causing this loss. For every 100 acres of clover and lespedeza that were killed farmers in the county may lose $266 in Federal payments in addition to the loss of their labor and seed. Grasshoppers are expensive to keep on the farm and poison mash is the best breakfast to give them.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bukowicz and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Miller of St. Louis were week end guests of Mrs. Lennie Marshall.

SCOTT COUNTY FARM BUREAU NEWS

Plan Terrace Outlets Now

Should be ready for use when system is completed.

The soil erosion control system should be designed now for fields to be terraced next year so the outlet, an important part of a terrace system, can be established this fall and ready to function when the terraces are constructed.

explained F. B. Veatch, Jr., County agent, when discussing soil conservation measures with farm leaders in the county. Well-established vegetated outlets are efficient in most cases and relatively inexpensive as compared to terrace outlets established entirely by permanent structures. A dense sod must be established before terrace water is turned into such an outlet to prevent serious gully-ing, not only down the outlet but also back along the terrace channel.

Mr. Veatch says he will be glad to plan outlet designs for interested persons, providing they furnish him information giving the drainage area, the degree of slope of the outlet, the soil type, and the average productivity of the land. Only in cases here it is possible to use an emergency outlet without serious danger before the outlet is in a satisfactory condition to carry terrace water. This means that it is highly desirable, if not essential, to prepare and seed outlets at least one year before terrace construction.

After determining the location and design, the outlet should be leveled and beams put up on each side. Liberal soil treatment should be applied in all cases, as the outlet is such an important part of a terrace system that every precaution should be taken to insure success. Barnyard manure at the rate of one-fourth load reinforced with six to eight pounds of 20 per cent superphosphate to each 1000 square feet or ten pounds of 4-16-4 should be applied at the time of seeding or shortly before. Approximately one pound per 1000 square feet of a mixture of two parts of red top and one part of timothy should be seeded on a firm, compact seed bed. A light seeding of barley, rye or wheat should be used as a nurse crop and removed for hay before heading.

The ant was red. It crawled into an electric block signal system at Unadilla, Ga., and flashed a red signal. There was a screeching of air brakes and the fast passenger train Ponce de Leon and a freight came to a halt. Investigators found the ant... dead. The insect was removed, the signal flashed back to green and both trains resumed schedule.

Mrs. J. E. Snodgrass and daughter of Cape Girardeau are visiting the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. N. Watts this week.
